What an Exchange Has to Say About His Congressional Record-General News of the Territory.

Benton River Press: Talking of ovations and banquets: The capital city of Montana should prepare a royal reception for Delegate Joseph K. Toole, and representative men from every town and county in the territory of Montana should be invited to attend. It should be a territorial affair and entirely void of any political significance whatever. For the opening of the great northern reservation, and for Montana statehood, Delegate Toole labored faithfully from the moment of his election, and his efforts resulted in success. We do not pretend to say, neither do Mr. Toole's friends claim, that he accomplished all this single-handed and alone: but we do say that he led the fight with all his banners flying, and never once did by yield an inch.

We remember there were those at times who criticised his enthusiastic labors for statehood, and declared he was wasting valuable time in efforts that would never result in success. But Mr. Toole, realizing the necessity of being prepared to seize the golden opportunity whenever it should be presented, was never found off guard. When the allied forces of the two Dakotas, Washington and Montana made the final assault which resulted in victory, Montana was found at the post of honor, shoulder to shoulder with her sisters at the very front of the battle, carrying the banner to statehood and freedom.

How different it might have been had Mr. Toole been leash poseful, enthusiastic of coal cropping out of the small butter was commenced on several of these leads tall, and Mint Toole stanlish and Mint Toole been leads of mint for coal roopping out of the small butter in the first several of the stantisc his side of Mint. Work was commenced on several of these leads and fine last fall, and Mint Toole is the hills seem to be similar in character to those around Benton, and the question naturally arises whether walve not fore a transfer of the fruit of the statement that the Big Horn and to complete its projected line from Custer statement that the Big Horn and to complete its projected li shoulder with her sisters at the very front of the battle, carrying the banner to state-hood and freedom.

How different it might have been had Mr. Toole been less hopeful, enthusiastic and faithful to the best interest of his constituents? Suppose he had been built after the fashion of the carpetbagger, who believed that the tattered and humiliating garments of territorial servitude were good enough for the people of Montana as long as he and his friends could hold federal offices and fatten at the national crib? Suppose four years ago our delegate had said: "Montana is in no hurry for state-hood; she can wait yet a little while; the boys want the federal offices and must have them." But Mr. Toole is not built that way. From the day he assumed the responsibilities attending Montana's delegate to congress he has been the earnest champion of statehood; and could his voice have given our territory the desired boon it would have been ours the first day Joseph K. Toole entered the halls of congress.

Mr. Toole came to Montana a beardless.

Joseph K. Toole entered the halls of congress.

Mr. Toole came to Montana a beardless boy and at Helena entered upon the study of law. His earliest efforts in a profession which he has since graced and honored were here put forth. He grew to manhood among and belongs to our people. There is not a blot or stain upon his record as a man, citizen, lawyer or congressman. He is worthy of, and possesses, the respect, love and confidence of Montana's people, irrespective or party. He steps down from his high official position with the laurel wreath of victory on his brow, and the plaudits of the whole people of the new born state of Montana, who with one voice exclaim: "Well done, thou good and faithful public servant; you have fought a hard fight and won a noble victory for your people." We say "honor to where honor is due."

The Sweet Grass Hills.

Press: J. C. Gilbert, of the Sweet Grass hills, arrived in the city yesterday, and reports matters flourishing in that section. Mr. Gilbert's special mission at this time is to forward a petition to Washington to have a mail route established to the Sweet Grass, the document being endorsed by sixty signers from the hills. The route petitioned for is to be from Benton via the Marias. The miners in the hills are keeping themselves busy all the time, and new Medicine company, Paqua, O. Sold by R. ing themselves busy all the time, and new locations are being made every few days. The most important of these is one by Phil. White, who recently discovered a new galena lead in the east butte, which promises to become a valuable property as developments progress. Mr. Gilbert reports a large number of settlersjcoming into, that vicinity, thand the pastime of jumping ranches is frequently indulged in. This may be taken that choice lands are getting scarce in that section.

r. Armington visited Neihart last week nd made the mine owners a proposit point if the miners would obligate themselves to furnish a certain amount of ore for five years. The proposition was a failure, as the miners were not willing to accept the condition. It is probable, however, that the road will be built any how.
The Great Falls Smelting company has $700,000 invested and has not ore enough to keep three stacks running, and will be compelled to run a railroad into the Belt mountains to keep its plant in operation.
They may not build to Neihart forthwith,
but if they do not build to either that point or Barker, fully one-half of their plant will lie idle this summer.

X. Beidler's Reward. Avaunt Courier: If the legislature, in ts wisdom, shall see fit to favor X. Beider with a precautionary reward for past ervices, would it not be a good idea to pay the sum in monthly installments? Objecthe sum in monthly installments? Objection was made by the last legislature to compensating him because it was thought the money might not be judiciously invested and in a year or two X. would be as bard up as ever. Many persons consider that because of his past services and physical infirmities, the legislature should make some provision that will show appreciation of the past and provide against possible want in the future. An appropriation to be paid in installments would best secure his welfare and be in keeping with the eternal fitness of things.

Montana Vitally Interested. River Press: The stockmen of Montana are beginning to awaken to the fact that here is a bill pending in the Dakota legissture that concerns them almost as much as it does their Dakota brethren. The bill s to repeal the law to prevent the spread of is to repeal the law to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among live stock, and has already passed the lower house of the Dakota legislature by a small majority. If the law is repealed, it will throw open the ranges of Dakota to shipments of diseased animals from all parts of the country and will expose the eastern border of Montana to similar danger. The stockmen of this territory hope to see the measure defeated and the Dakota law left as it is, since it is a great help to the Montana law in keeping out infectious and contagious diseases.

Great Falls Leader: S. C. Chesum, of Mr. Chesum was taken to Deer Lodge. After being brought in the presence of the United States marshal he was set free, as he had not the least resemblance to the man charged with the murder. The murderer is six feet tall, has blue eyes and is of Scotch descent and has the Scotch accent. He would be 44 years of age. Mr. Chesum, on the contrary, has hazel eyes, is 33 years of age, and is only five feet ten inches tall. Mr. Chesum has the appearance of a straightforward, honest man, and is considered one of the best citizens of Choteau.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

River Press: We learn on the quiet that a nice little placer mine is being successfully worked in the Bear Paw mountains. When the lucky owner brings in his gold to sell he says he is from the Sweet Grass. How is that for business?

Avaunt Courier: M. J. Liddell, A. K. Yerkes, W. M. Alward, Garrett L. Hogan and Ed. F. Ferris have incorporated "The Gallatin Valley Club of the City of Bozeman," having in view the perfecting of an organization for literary purposes, mental improvement and the promotion of social intercourse.

In setting down his gun it was discharged, the charge teafing the clothing from his stomach entered at the point of his chin and tore off the side of his face and took out his eye. valley.

Great Falls Tribune: The odious term "carpet-bagger," which the Inter Mountain uses so freely, should henceforth be banished from Montana politics. There never have been "carpet-baggers" in Montana. Men like Governor Leslie and Judge McConnell, who held high rank in their own states are no more "carpet-baggers" than any of the distinguished governors and judges who have held office in the territories and aided so much in their development. If they are "carpet-baggers" so was the chivairous General Meagher and the sagacious Governor Potts. We like home rule, but we esteem and respect those who come here at the call of the president and do their work well.

This is the verdict of all who have gone to Florida and the south over the "Kankakee Line," which is the only route running solid trains through between Chicago, LaFayette, Indianapolis and Cincinnati, and making connections in Central Union Depot, Cincinnati, with trains of the Queen & Crescent Route for the south and southeast. Equipment unequalled. Accommodations unsurpassed.

The following from the pen of Mr. M. P. Birdwell, editor of the Marion (lowa) Pilot, will, we believe, be of interest to many of our readers. He says: It is with pleasure that I certify to the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it in my family for years and have all ways tound it most excellent, and especially for colds, croup and sore throat. It is aafe and effective." For sale by H. M. Parchen.

"I have used St. Patrick's Pills," says Mr. J. Reynolds, of Mayfield, Ky., "and pronounce them superior to any I have ever before used. I do not hesitate to recommend them, knowing them to be reliable." They are thorough, yet gentle in their action and leave the system in splendid condition. As a catharthic, or for disorders of the liver, St. Patrick's Pills have no equal. For sale by H. M. Parchen.

HOME TESTIMONY

I was suffering from an unusually bad cough, my lungs were sore and congested, and I consulted one of the best physicians in Helena, whose prescriptions failed to relieve me. I became alarmed, and at the suggestion of a friend purchased a bottle of Acker's English Remedy for coughs, and after taking it according to directions was completely cured. I therefore cheerfully recommend it.

JACOB SWITZER.

I had a racking cough and inflamed throat and bought a bottle of Acker's English Remedy upon the recommendation of a friend, and was entirely cured by it. I consider it a never failing remedy for a cough.
